NATIONAL YOUNG AUTHORS CHALLENGE 2.0

GRADES 5-12

Your Chance to Become a Published Author with Penguin Random House

One of the World's Biggest
Creative Writing Competition Returns

TWO PENGUIN RANDOM HOUSE BOOKS.

100 PUBLISHED
YOUNG AUTHORS.

WELCOME TO THE NATIONAL YOUNG AUTHORS CHALLENGE 2.0

YOUR STORY COULD BECOME A PUBLISHED BOOK

Every great author begins with a single story.

Following the remarkable success of the inaugural edition, the National Young Authors Challenge returns as NYAC 2.0; bigger, more inclusive, and with an even greater opportunity for young writers to see their work published by Penguin Random House.

This year, the competition welcomes students from Grades 5–12, creating opportunities for an even larger community of young storytellers across the world.

To ensure fair and age-appropriate evaluation, entries will be judged across two separate categories, with each category featuring its own writing theme.

SCHOOL REGISTRATION DEADLINE: 1ST NOVEMBER 2026

THE UMBRELLA THEME: THE WORLD WE INHERIT

Every story begins in a world shaped by others; families, friendships, places, memories, traditions, rules, mistakes, inventions, dreams and choices.

This year, we invite young writers to imagine the worlds their characters receive, protect, question, change or pass on.

TWO THEMES

JUNIOR CATEGORY (GRADES 5-8): WHAT IF?

Write an original short story that begins with a problem. What if a character embarked on an unexpected adventure, set out to solve a mystery, discovered a secret, entered a strange place, faced a fear or encountered a challenge?

Your story can be funny, adventurous, light-hearted, emotional, futuristic, mysterious or realistic. What matters is the problem, how the character deals with it, and the journey to the end.

Top 50 stories from this category will be published in a dedicated Penguin Random House anthology featuring young authors from Grades 5–8.

SENIOR CATEGORY (GRADES 9-12): AT THE CROSSROADS

Every character reaches a moment when they find themselves in an unwanted or unexpected situation.

Write an original short story about dealing with a circumstance and the choices that follow. The crossroads could be personal, emotional, moral, social, technological or environmental. It may involve family, friendship, ambition, identity, courage, climate, AI, belonging, truth, loss, love or the future. Your story should show what is at stake, why the moment matters, and what results from the character's choice or action.

Top 50 stories from this category will be published in a separate Penguin Random House anthology featuring outstanding young authors from Grades 9–12.

WHAT'S NEW IN NYAC 2.0?

NOW OPEN TO GRADES 5-12

Building on the success of the first edition, NYAC now welcomes students from Grades 5-12, making the competition accessible to an even larger community of young writers.

2 TWO CATEGORIES. TWO THEMES.

Both categories fall under the umbrella theme:

The World We Inherit

Entries will be evaluated in two age-appropriate categories:

Grades 5-8 — “What If?”

Stories built around a problem, unexpected situation, mystery, adventure, challenge or question.

Grades 9-12 — “At the Crossroads”

Stories exploring a significant circumstance, choice, dilemma or turning point and its consequences.

TWO PENGUIN RANDOM HOUSE ANTHOLOGIES

For the very first time, Penguin India will publish:

- One anthology featuring the Top 50 stories from Grades 5-8
- One anthology featuring the Top 50 stories from Grades 9-12

That's 100 published young authors in a single season.

EVEN MORE RECOGNITION

The opportunity doesn't end with publication.

The Next 50 stories from each category will also receive national recognition by being featured on the official Penguin website, giving another 100 young writers the opportunity to showcase their work to readers across the country.

YOUR JOURNEY FROM WRITER TO PUBLISHED AUTHOR WITH PENGUIN

STEP 1 – THE SPARK

Every great story begins with an idea. A character. A question. An emotion. A world waiting to be explored.

Take that idea and transform it into a story that only you can tell, inspired by this year's theme, The World We Inherit.

STEP 2 – ENTER THE CHALLENGE

Choose the category for your grade and write an original short story based on its theme:

Grades 5–8: What If?

Grades 9–12: At the Crossroads

Your imagination starts the journey. Your voice makes it unforgettable.

STEP 3 - LEARN FROM PENGUIN AUTHORS & EDITORS

Every registered participant receives access to an exclusive 2-Day Online Writing Bootcamp led by Penguin authors and editors.

Discover storytelling techniques, character development, editing strategies, publishing insights, and what makes a story memorable.

STEP 4 - GET RECOGNISED

Every participant receives a Certificate of Participation.

Outstanding writers receive additional recognition for their creativity and storytelling excellence.

STEP 5 - BECOME A PUBLISHED AUTHOR

The Top 50 stories from each category will be published in two exclusive Penguin Random House books. Your story. Your name. Your published book.

RECOGNITION & AWARDS

PUBLISHED BY PENGUIN RANDOM HOUSE

The Top 50 stories from each category will be published in two separate Penguin anthologies. 100 young authors published by Penguin Random House.

RECOGNITION FOR TOP 100 WRITERS

Both the Top 50 and the Next 50 writers from each category will receive special recognition for their outstanding work.

FEATURED ON THE OFFICIAL PENGUIN WEBSITE

The Next 50 stories from each category will be showcased on the official Penguin website, providing another 100 young writers with national visibility.

CERTIFICATE OF PARTICIPATION

Every eligible participant receives an official Certificate of Participation recognising their contribution to the National Young Authors Challenge 2.0.
